

ASSESSMENT OF ACADEMIC QUALIFICATIONS IN ARCHITECTURE FOR MIGRATION PURPOSES¹ (SKILLS ASSESSMENT)

Explanatory Notes

Please read these Explanatory Notes carefully before completing Form M

This Application Form is to be used by those seeking either:

- a. Assessment of Overseas Academic Qualifications in Architecture for Migration Purposes
OR
- b. Verification of Accredited Australian Academic Qualifications in Architecture for Migration Purposes

1. Introduction

Before you can apply to migrate to Australia under the General Skilled Migration categories, you must satisfy certain basic requirements.

One of the basic requirements is to nominate an occupation that fits your academic qualifications and skills, from the Skilled Occupations List and to have your academic qualifications assessed by the relevant assessing authority for your nominated occupation.

The Architects Accreditation Council of Australia (AACA) is the relevant assessing authority for

The Occupation: Architect
ANZSCO CODE: 232111

If your nominated occupation is 'Architect' you should use this form to obtain an assessment of your academic qualifications to determine if they are suitable for this occupation.

More information on the migration process including the Skilled Occupations List is available from the Australian Government's Department of Immigration and Citizenship (DIAC) website (<http://www.immi.gov.au>).

If you have overseas academic qualifications in Architecture the assessment process is known as an Assessment of Overseas Qualifications in Architecture for Migration Purposes (Skills Assessment).

If you have accredited Australian qualifications in Architecture the assessment process is known as Verification of Accredited Australian Academic Qualifications in Architecture for Migration Purposes.

Please Note:

- AACA assesses only completed academic qualifications in architecture.
- AACA assesses only qualifications obtained by course work.
- AACA's Skills Assessment does not include work experience or third party comments.
- AACA does not provide advice on how to upgrade your academic qualifications in order to meet the requirements for the occupation for migration purposes.
- Information about registration does not form part of AACA's Skills Assessment for the occupation architect, but is an integral part of the information that is required by DIAC. If your country requires registration to practice as an architect and you have obtained registration, you should indicate this at Section 4 of the Application Form M.

2. Overseas Academic Qualifications In Architecture

The qualification requirements for the nominated occupation 'Architect' under the General Skilled Migration program is an academic qualification equivalent to a current accredited professional course in architecture from a recognised Australian school of architecture. An accredited Australian qualification is one that is approved under law by an Australian registration authority.

An accredited course in architecture from an Australian school of architecture requires a minimum of five years full-time academic education involving the satisfactory completion of prescribed areas of study. The core areas of study are Design, Technology, Professional Studies, History and Communication. Qualifications must evidence equivalence in all core areas in order to be assessed as 'suitable' for the occupation architect. Accordingly it is against this requirement that AACA undertakes assessment of overseas academic qualifications.

An AACA assessment of the suitability of your overseas academic qualifications in architecture for migration purposes is an opinion on the status of your academic qualifications in terms of equivalency with accredited Australian qualifications in architecture.

AACA considers applications on a case by case basis. In forming its opinion on the status of an overseas qualification AACA considers the material submitted by the applicant and a range of factors, including the education system in the country from where the qualifications were obtained, the status of the school and the level, structure and content of the program of study undertaken.

A full list of Australian accredited qualifications in architecture is available on the AACA website: <http://www.aaca.org.au> >Architect registration >Recognised architecture qualifications.

AACA accepts no responsibility for the judgments made by individuals or third parties that may disagree with its assessment.

Application for the Assessment of overseas academic qualifications is made by completing and submitting the attached Form M, along with the required documentation and fee.

If, in addition to your overseas academic qualification, you have completed Australian post-graduate qualifications in Architecture, and you wish to have these qualifications considered, you should also submit the required documentation for these qualifications.

3. Australian Accredited Academic Qualifications in Architecture

Under immigration law, if you are applying to migrate to Australia and you have an accredited academic qualification in Architecture from an Australian School of Architecture, you are required to obtain verification that it is a recognised qualification in Architecture. A full list of accredited Australian qualifications in Architecture is available on the AACA website: <http://www.aaca.org.au> >Architect registration >Recognised architecture qualifications.

Application for verification of your accredited Australian qualifications may be made by completing and submitting the attached Form M, along with the required documentation and fee.

4. Completing Form M

You will need to provide all the information asked for and all documents and necessary fees before your application can be considered.

Please note:

Applications which are incomplete or do not conform to AACA's requirements as set out in these explanatory notes cannot be processed and will be returned to applicants without assessment – in particular see Sections 5, 6, 7, 8, 11.

Answer all questions in English, unless otherwise requested. Initial and date any alterations on the form.

If you have completed more than two qualifications in Architecture and you wish to have these additional qualifications considered, please provide details in the same format as required on the form, but provide this information on a separate sheet of paper and sign and date it.

If you need more space to answer questions attach a signed and dated sheet giving the required details.

Please send all required documents and your assessment fee to AACA at the address shown on the application form.

5. Documents to be Provided

The documents required are:

- The degree or diploma in the original language for each architecture qualification
- Official transcripts for all professional coursework architecture courses completed (or student book or mark sheets) in the original language. A transcript is a list of the subjects studied by the individual student each year, the weighting of each subject in hours or credit points, and the marks obtained.
- Evidence of change of name (where applicable)
- Evidence of visa status, if applicable

To support your application, you must provide certified copies of all documents listed. (Further information on Certification is provided in Section 6 below.) Please do not send the original of these documents or photocopies of certified copies. AACA does not normally return documents that have been assessed.

If you elect to provide academic information additional to the above, it must be officially issued by the awarding institution, applicable to the period of your studies, and meet AACA's requirements as set out in this document, eg translation, certification.

Documents not in English must be translated, and certified copies of the translations must be attached to the documents from which they have been translated. Extract translations are not acceptable. (Further information on translation is provided in Section 7 below)

All documents must be officially issued by the relevant institution or authority. In AACA's experience, it is unusual for an educational institution or authority not to have records.

You are encouraged to ensure that the documentation you provide contains official certified evidence of study in the core areas of design, technology, professional studies, history and communications, as indicated in Section 2 above.

Documentation must be submitted in unbound loose-leaf format. Documentation that is not provided in the required format will be returned without assessment.

Documents relating to work experience or references to or by third parties will not be considered and must not be included in the documentation.

All personal information received by AACA will be handled confidentially.

6. Certification

All copies of documents that you send to AACA must be certified by an authorised person.

A certified copy is a copy of an original document that is certified as a true copy by an authorised person.

In Australia, AACA accepts documents certified by Justices of the Peace, legal practitioners, and admission officers at all Australian universities. If you wish to have a document certified overseas please contact the closest Australian Mission for details of people who can certify documents in that country.

If certification is provided as a separate document, you must send both the certification and the copy of the document being certified. AACA will not provide an assessment on the basis of certification only.

To have your copies certified you will need to give both the original and the copy of the document to the person certifying the documents. Each copy of the document must be certified separately, and must show clearly:

- the words 'certified true copy of the original'
- the signature of the certifying officer, and
- the name and address or provider/registration number (where appropriate) of the certifying officer legibly printed below the signature. It must be possible, from the details provided, for AACA to contact the certifying officer if necessary.

7. Translation

All documents you send to AACA must be translated into English.

If the documents are translated in a country outside Australia, the translator must be approved by the authorities in the country where the translation is made. Ask the Australian Embassy, High Commission or Consulate for advice if you are unsure.

Translators in Australia are listed in the Yellow Pages telephone book and should be accredited by the National Accreditation Authority for Translators and Interpreters (NAATI).

Keep the original English translation for your future use. Send only certified copies of the English translation.

8. Fee

Each application must be accompanied by payment of the prescribed fee. The current fee for assessment of overseas academic qualifications in architecture is $AU1050; the current fee for verification of accredited Australian academic qualifications in architecture is $AU550. Fees are subject to change without notice and are not normally refundable. You can check the AACA website (www.aaca.org.au >International issues >Information for Prospective Migrants) for current information about fees.

The fee is payable to 'AACA' and is to be paid by one of the following methods:

- a bank cheque in Australian dollars drawn by a bank outside Australia that has bank clearance arrangements with an Australian bank
- a foreign draft drawn on an Australian Bank in Australian dollars
- a bank cheque drawn by an Australian bank
- a money order issued by Australia Post.

AACA does not accept cash, travellers cheques, payment by credit card or electronic funds transfer. AACA is not responsible for the loss of cash if sent.

9. How Long will the Skills Assessment take?

When AACA receives your application you will be sent a receipt to confirm that your documentation and fee have been received. Your Skills Assessment could take up to 20 weeks. Once you have received a receipt, please wait at least fifteen weeks before contacting AACA about the progress of your Skills Assessment. If more information is needed AACA will contact you.

If you require verification of an Australian accredited qualification in Architecture, please allow four weeks for your verification advice.

10. If you Disagree with the Skills Assessment Outcome

AACA does not assess applications for a second time unless a further professional academic qualification in architecture has been obtained, in which case a new application for Skills Assessment must be lodged, using Form M.

Should you disagree with the Skills Assessment provided, you may appeal to AACA against the outcome.

Your appeal must be lodged on the Appeal form, and a fee of AUD$750 is required.

Your appeal must include the reasons why you disagree with the AACA Skills Assessment and may only contain supplementary information relating to the completed academic qualifications contained in your Skills Assessment application.

Appeals must be lodged within three months of the date on which the Skills Assessment advice is issued.

Any additional academic qualifications completed since the lodgement of a Skills Assessment application will not be considered in an Appeal.

If you have completed additional academic qualifications since the lodgement of your Skills Assessment application and you wish to have these additional qualifications considered, you must lodge a fresh Skills Assessment application – Form M.

11. Agents

AACA normally deals directly with applicants seeking an Assessment of their overseas academic qualifications, or verification of their accredited Australian qualifications. Privacy provisions prohibit AACA from discussing applications with other people (third parties) unless specifically authorised to do so.

If you want someone such as a family member or other agent to deal with AACA on your behalf, you will need to attach a letter addressed to AACA and signed by you authorising this person (by name) to act as your agent. Authorisation forms produced by other organisations will not be accepted.

12. After you receive an Assessment/Verification of your Qualifications for Migration Purposes

a. Migration applicants with overseas academic qualifications in Architecture:

When you have received your Skills Assessment you should retain the original as it may be required for future purposes in Australia. AACA only issues one Skills Assessment advice. You can include a certified copy of your Skills Assessment with your application to migrate to Australia. This Skills Assessment is only one of the requirements that will be considered by the Australian migration authorities in your application for migration.

Information about how to lodge your migration application is available from the Australian Government's Department of Immigration and Citizenship website (<http://www.immi.gov.au/>).

A positive Skills Assessment does not guarantee you employment in your occupation in Australia. It is an assessment for migration purposes only and as such provides only an opinion on the status of your academic qualifications.

If you migrate to Australia and wish to become registered as an architect you will need to undertake a further academic assessment – the Review of Academic Equivalence (RAE) – to establish whether your academic qualifications can be recognised as equivalent to an accredited Australian qualification in architecture. The RAE process requires a personal interview and evaluation of your architectural studies and student portfolio.

Further information on the assessment procedures, including the RAE procedure, are available from the AACA website.

b. Migration applicants with accredited Australian qualifications in Architecture:

When you have received verification of the status of your accredited Australian qualifications you should retain the original as it may be required for future purposes in Australia. AACA only issues one Skills Assessment advice. You can include a certified copy of your Skills Assessment with your application to migrate to Australia. This Skills Assessment is only one of the requirements that will be considered by the Australian migration authorities in your application for migration.

Information about how to lodge your migration application is available from the Australian Government's Department of Immigration and Citizenship website (<http://www.immi.gov.au/>).

Verification does not guarantee you employment in your occupation in Australia. It is an assessment for migration purposes only and as such provides only an opinion on the status of your academic qualifications.

If you wish to become registered as an architect in Australia no further assessment of your academic qualifications is required. However you will be required to fulfil the remaining requirements for registration. You should visit the AACA website for details at www.aaca.org.au.

Further information on assessment procedures is available from the AACA website.

13. Penalties

If forged, altered, or falsified documents are submitted to AACA at any time, the application will not proceed, no refund of fees will be made and the relevant authorities may be notified.

AACA reserves the right to contact educational and governmental institutions and agencies for additional information and/or verification of the authenticity of the material presented.
